

Something For Your Heart

"To which of the angels did God ever say, 'Sit at my right hand until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet'? Are not all angels ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation?" (Heb 1:13-14)

Angels serve humans? What a wild idea that those awesome, powerful, fiery creatures of the wind who worship Jesus and obey His commands would be sent to serve the humans who will "inherit salvation." That tells us something about the purpose of angels, but it also tells us something about Jesus and the humans who are trusting in Him for their salvation. First, we see again -- once more -- that Jesus is above the angels. He sits in the seat of power and victory at God's right hand. But what does He do with that commanding position? How does He put His angel army to use? He sends them to minister to the people He loves, the people He died for -- including those being persecuted for their faith in Him. He spends His power, in part, to serve His people.

Think: Have you expanded your picture of powerful King Jesus as God this week?

Pray: Praise Jesus that He sits in the victory seat at the right hand of God.

Do: Today's passage quotes from Psalm 110. Check it out to see the picture it paints of conquering King Jesus.

In the Beginning - New Main Event Series! New

Contrary to what we may have always thought, the starting point for Easter isn't the waving of palm branches or the Last Supper. It even goes back farther than the birth of Jesus. The starting point for Easter began long before Jesus became flesh and walked this Earth. In fact, it began in the garden with Adam and Eve and God. The Easter story is a story about restoring what is broken—both in us and in our world. And it all began in the beginning.

Sunday Nights @ 5pm beginning in the Gym

The Battle Within

Week 1: A Man And A Woman

We were broken because sin entered the world, but Jesus' death and resurrection gives us the opportunity to be restored.

Week 2: A World

Because of sin our world is broken, but Jesus' death and resurrection gives us a glimpse of how our world can be restored now and some day.

Charleston Mission Trip! Coming July 2010...

While Charleston has been rated one of the best vacation spots in the country, its growth has only created a larger gap between the poor and the wealthy. So, while there's opportunity for sand and sun, you'll also be helping bring hope to the area's underprivileged.
